Subject: Marketing in Banking and Insurance

Class: TYBBI

Semester: VI

Assignment no 2: Analyse the Coco cola case study (Discussed in the class room and provide the solution for the questions)

Marks:- 10

QUESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION:

1. In the late 1990s, CCI increased its focus on the rural market in India. Explain the reasons for CCI's move in detail.
2. According to analysts, CCI's 'Thanda Matlab Coca-Cola' advertisement was a major hit and made rural consumers connect with the product. Discuss the importance of advertising in rural marketing. What are the issues in advertising that a company should focus on while targeting rural consumers? Do you think there should be differences in advertising for rural consumers and urban consumers? Justify your stand.
3. Some analysts feel that with the urban market reaching saturation, the Cola war will now be fought in the rural market. What are the issues that CCI and Pepsi Co have to focus on to capture the rural market? Who do you think is more comfortably placed in the rural market?

Note:

1. Assignment should be written on Project paper
2. First page should include Name of the student, roll no, class, Subject

Zomato IPO Review

The rationale is given in PREFACE and the negative P/E makes this mega primary offer a costly bet. Earlier two loss-making food chain IPOs of Burger King and Barbeque Nation have rewarded investors in the medium term, but they were in the hotel sector that enjoys good margins, whereas this company is purely dependent on third party supply and is primarily in the food delivery business. This being the first mover in the segment, its listing performance hinges on ongoing uncertainty and the future prospects. National Restaurant Association of India (NRAI) moving Competition Commission of India (CCI) for level playing field between restaurants and online food aggregators is a major concern for a while. Being mega offer, chances of allotment are higher. There is no harm in skipping this IPO with inflated valuations. Read detail review...

Jaisi Nagar
Soya Samridhhi
Producer Co.
Ltd. (JSSPCL)
Madhya Pradesh
January 2018

कृषि के इकान्दर

Quality warehousing gifts the privilege of time to Jaisi Nagar Soya Samridhhi Producer Co. Ltd.

Failure is just another step towards success. This was clearly the learning when it took a decade for Srijan, an NGO working with farmers organizations, to reorganize the farmers onto one platform. After a failed attempt at creating a farmers' milk cooperative in 1999, Srijan brought together around 1,000 Soybean producers in Jaisi Nagar block of Sagar district in Madhya Pradesh under the aegis of Jaisi Nagar Soya Samridhhi Producer Company Limited in 2015-16 with the help of SFAC India (Small Farmers' Agri-business Consortium).

The FPO felt that the need for farmers to get right information at the right time was of paramount importance. The farmers were unaware about the use of fertilizers, seed and farm preparation techniques before sowing, etc. Hence, the FPO arranged training sessions on good farming practices and prudent use of inputs. At the end of first year of its commencement, the Jaisi Nagar FPO finally decided to embark upon what most FPOs strive for - business to benefit its stakeholders.

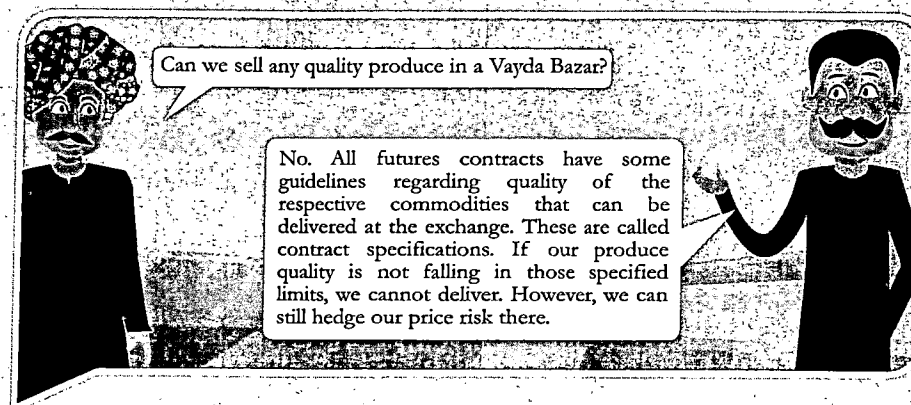

In October 2016, the FPO started focusing on procuring Soybean from its member farmers. This was easier said than done. Farmers were struggling to trust an unknown entity and had many reservations around the payment system. As a result, the FPO could procure only 55 quintals of Soybean and the real challenge was yet to come. FPO was also ignorant about when and how to sell the procured produce. The stock was kept in their office rooms and when the monsoon set in, the moisture started creeping in into the crop. FPO were forced to sell the crop in haste which impacted their selling price. Ultimately, the FPO ended up losing close to Rs. 150 per quintal net on the procurement price. The net loss was more, once logistic costs were added.

The first year taught Jaisi Nagar FPO that selling their crop was the most crucial part of the effort to increase their member farmers' agri-income. This necessity compelled them to look beyond a traditional mandi to sell their crop. With the help of their mentor NGO Srijan, the FPO officials explored for a solution from different stakeholders of the agri ecosystem. Bundi branch of the NGO in Rajasthan had already found a solution for their Soybean producers with the agri-commodity exchange NCDEX. Shadowing their example, Jaisi Nagar Soya Samridhhi FPO also decided to emulate the practice. With their concerted and sustained efforts, the FPO successfully procured 275 quintals of Soybean from its farmer members in the 2017-18 harvest season. The average price of the procurement including logistic costs came up to Rs. 2885 per quintal.

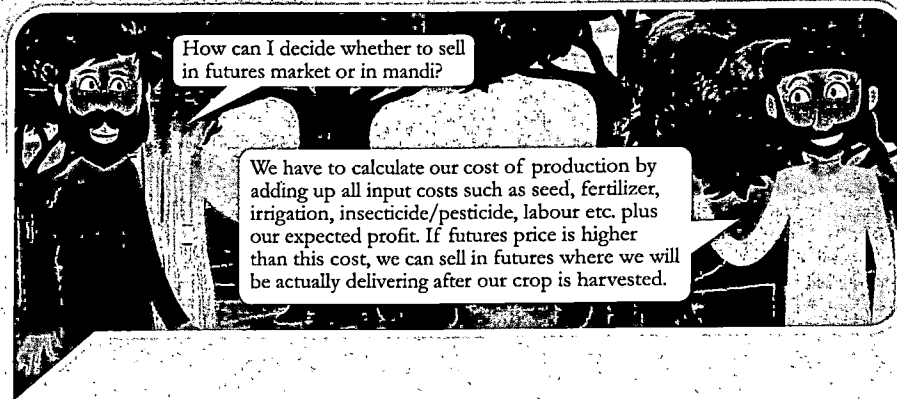

Putting their stock at the NCDEX accredited warehouse gave them the freedom to take as much time as they wanted to pursue their marketing strategy. The FPO was under no pressure to sell the stock. Using the NCDEX platform for the first time, the FPO sold a lot (100 quintals) of Soybean in December at Rs. 3,262 and made around Rs.400 per quintal for its members. In the third week of January, they sold another lot at Rs.3,464 further increasing the profits. "We are ecstatic to have found such a fantastic tool for our farmers. This has not only effectively taken away the price risk for them, but has also increased their profits in a secure manner", said Naveen Bolumalla from Srijan.

Now the FPO is left with 75 quintals, 25 short of a lot to be able to trade at NCDEX. Therefore, it's looking at ways to sell the stock in an open market. With the stock safely kept at a quality warehouse, they have the privilege of time to strategize their sell. With the good experience of this year, Jaisi Nagar Soya Samridhhi FPO is now set to amplify its operations further with a goal to increase the income level of its member farmers.

Likewise, the FPO could sell 2500 MT of soybean to a single buyer from Coimbatore in the price range of Rs. 3200-4000 during October 2017 to March 2018. In that deal also, the farmers could fetch Rs. 100-150 per quintal more as compared to local mandi rates, claims Suryaji Shinde. The sale of chana is still on with 26 MT already sold. The speciality of this sale is that all the quantity that the FPO sold was graded first, then polished and the baked on 100 degree Celsius which could get the farmers around Rs. 200 more per quintal than what they could have got by selling it in raw form. Such meticulously planned business strategy got Godavari Valley to clock Rs. 12 crore turnover in 2017. And in 2018, with only 4 months passed, the FPO has already crossed this mark. In nutshell, this is not what an FPO have done in all, but this is what farmers with meagre land of cultivation have achieved. This is the power of organization, this is the power of FPO.

South Gujarat Progressive Farmers Self Reliant Producer Company

Gujarat
August 2018

कृषि के शिकार

An FPO empowering marginal farmers in tribal Gujarat (South Gujarat Progressive Farmers Self Reliant Producer Company)

South Gujarat is mostly tribal area with very little support from market ecosystem. So, when a social initiative from Reliance Foundation got to establish a farmer producer organisation (FPO), South Gujarat Progressive Farmers Self Reliant Producer Company, it was a genuine relief for small and marginal tribal farmers of Umarpada, Mandvi, Mangrol and Netrang blocks of Surat and Bharuch districts. With around 2000 members, the FPO was registered in March 2010. The member farmers were involved in cultivation of red gram, black gram, jowar, paddy and cotton in kharif and gram and groundnut in rabi. But they had no option other than local traders to sell their crop. With an average 2 acres of land, these farmers had very limited bargain power and totally dependent on local traders' discretion for price determination.

So, the first task South Gujarat Progressive Farmers Self Reliant PCL took in its hand was the aggregation of produce. It started with black gram and subsequently tur etc. were added to the list. The FPO procured the commodities from farmer members at pre-designated collection centres and started selling them to millers directly. This increased the price realization for farmers. Before selling them to millers, the FPO also started cleaning and grading of crops which increased their saleability. During Dec, 2017 - Jan, 2018 harvest season, the member farmers got Rs. 32-34 per kilo as against Rs. 24-26 a kilo prevailing in the local market for tur. They even tied up with Ambuja Exports for selling soybean and started getting Rs. 7-8 more for each kilogram. Apart from better price realization, farmers were also saved from cuts in weightage and other trade malpractices from this initiative.

Not only this, the aggregation made possible such things for the farmers which was otherwise unthinkable for them a couple of years ago. Last year, when NAFED started government backed procurement, the FPO participated in the process and sold 400 tonnes of tur, chana and groundnut worth Rs. 4 cr to benefit 700 of its member farmers. The benefit was substantive as they fetched Rs. 5050, Rs. 4400 and Rs. 5500 per quintal according to the MSP, announced by the government as against Rs. 3500, Rs. 3200 and Rs. 4700 per quintal respectively in local market/mandi.

After the agriculture and agri marketing started settling down in favour of small poor farmer members, the FPO turned its attention to the second most prevalent allied livelihood of the farmers that is animal husbandry. Farmers, primarily were dependent on crop residual for fodder and that too was expensive and not easily available in off-season. So, this year the FPO decided to try the future platform of agri commodity exchange NCDEX for a fodder commodity. In the month of July, 2018 they bought for the first time 10 tonnes of cotton seed oil cake (cocud) from the platform. After getting delivery, the total landed cost for the cotton seed oil cake (cocud) was Rs. 1919 per quintal as against Rs. 2450 per quintal in local market. "We are very happy with this experience. We have saved around 25% on this fodder and the quality is also far more superior than what we get in local shops. Now in the next stage, we are planning to sell soybean using NCDEX platform. We expect to get 40 tonnes of the crop this October and we have decided to hedge our price risk on the future platform in soybean," said Amit Bhai Chowdhary, Director of the FPO.

Department of Banking and Insurance had organised the session ~~★~~ on "Indian Contract Act And Company Law With Special Reference To Case Law".

Adv. Kunal Mankani was the resource person for the session.

In this session, Kunal sir had started with an example of 'Mahabharat' in which the moral of the story was that "if you want to achieve something, you should have a goal". Then sir gave an introduction on Indian Contract Act where he shared some examples like A & B were watching a cricket match of india and Pakistan where the A had an interpretation that dhoni will be out but B didn't agree with his interpretation so he had a bet with A. After this example the question was raised that is this a contract so to get understand it sir had started to explain what is contract using some examples, like domino's, grocery stores, etc. Even sir gave a detailed information of the sections of Indian Contract Act. And sir had also highlighted that "All agreements are not contract but all contracts are agreement". Sir took another example where a Mr. X is selling the laptop in 30k and the Mr.Y person accepts. This example had shed light on 'proposal becomes accepted and becomes promise'. And even added a point that contract would be a valid contract when both the parties agrees and it is enforceable by law.

For more detailed insight, Kunal Sir had put across some landmark case studies, which are as follows:-

- Balfour v. Balfour

Where a husband agreed to pay to his wife certain amount as maintenance every month while he was abroad. Husband failed to pay the promised amount. Wife sued him for the recovery of the amount. Here in this case wife could not recover as it was a social agreement and the parties did not intend to create any legal relations.

- Lalman Shukla v. Gauri Dutt

Where G (Gauridutt) sent his servant L (Lalman) to trace his missing nephew. He then announced that anybody who traced his nephew would be entitled to a certain reward. L, traced the boy in ignorance of this announcement. Subsequently when he came to know of the reward, he claimed it. Held, he was not entitled to the reward, as he did not know the offer.

- Carlylev. Carbolic SmokeBall Co. (1893)

In this famous case Carbolic smoke Ball Co. advertised in several newspapers that a reward of £100 would be given to any person who contracted influenza after using the smoke balls produced by the Carbolic Smoke Company according to printed directions. One lady, Mrs. Carlill, used the smoke balls as per the directions of company and even then, suffered from influenza. Therefore, it was held by the Court that she could recover the amount as by using the smoke balls she had accepted the offer.

- Salomon Vs. Salomon & Co. Ltd.

In Salomon vs. Salomon & Co. Ltd. the House of Lords laid down that a company is a person distinct and separate from its members. In this case one Salomon incorporated a company named "Salomon & Co., Ltd., with seven subscribers consisting of himself, his wife, four sons and one daughter. This company took over the personal business assets of Salomon for £ 38,782 and in turn, Salomon took 20,000 shares of £ 1 each, debentures worth £ 10,000 of the company with charge on the company's assets and the balance in cash. His wife, daughter and four sons took up one £ 1 share each. Subsequently, the company went into liquidation due to general trade depression. The unsecured creditors to the tune of £7,000 contended that Salomon could not be treated as a secured creditor of the company, in respect of the debentures held by him, as he was the managing director of one-man company, which was not different from Salomon and the cloak of the company was a mere sham and fraud.

End of the day, it was an absolutely informative session and the learning experience was amazing.

Thanks and regards,

Yash Niren Bhalerao - BF20006
